Tribute from John & Joyce Pearkes

Terry

Joyce and I were saddened to read John's obituary this morning. We have repeatedly said to each other since you moved to the island that we must make the trek to visit you both. We have now lost that opportunity but we continue to have our memories of those years so long ago. Have we not aged too quickly? We would love to get together again and hope you will make contact when you are next in Vancouver. In the meantime, please accept our sympathy for the loss for which we know you will suffer but we are happy that you have so many memories of John's happiness with you.

Dear Terry,

So sorry to read about John's passing. I always enjoyed my encounters with John at the Cowichan Symphony performances. The photo in the paper is exactly how I remember John, a twinkle in his eyes, a big smile, friendly and kind. Take care of your future self.
